

Things needed: A balloon or a rock or a glass of water or a lit candle, and your astrological sign. (This can be found online using your birthday)

Under the sky I stand,

Atop the ground I walk

Through the air I circle

Embracing the light I move

Deosil I spin

Out, tout. All that shouldn't, isn't, All that remains, stays. (3x)

This space is clean. The circle I am to make.

Once, twice, and a third time I move. I step were I stepped, over and over. The beginning becomes the end, merging into itself. This space moves into a place that is between here and there.

We catch glimpses of ourself from the past and the future. We know we have returned to our place of working.

The Moon is Full,

Our intentions swollen

Our actions done

Our harvest begins

To the sprits of Air,

Gemini, Libra, and Aquarius, be here tonight. Bring to us your gifts of quick wit, of blance, and of knowledge. Gaurdains of the mind, thank you for joining us this night of the full moon.

Hail and Welcome

(Hail and Welcome)

To the sprits of Fire,

Aries, Leo and Sagittarius, be here tonight. Bring to us your gifts of Leadership, of Confidence and Freesom. Gaurdains of Passion, thank you for joining us this night of the Full Moon.

Hail and Welcome

(Hail and Welcome)

To the sprits of Water,

Cancer, Scorpio and Pisces, be here tonight. Bring to us the gifts of hearth and home, enchantment and intimacy, transformation and harmony. Gaurdains of the Self, thank you for joining us this night of the full moon.

Hail and Welcome

(Hail and Welcome)

To the sprits of Earth,

Taurus, Virgo and Capricorn be here tonight. Bring to us the gifts of loyalty and security, bringing order from chaos, discipline and determination. Gaurdains of the Way, thank you for joining us this night for the Full Moon.

Hail and Welcome

(Hail and Welcome)

To help with the reaping we gather tonight in circle or Glen

To blance the enegy, Goddess and God we call.

Maiden, Matron and Crone. She who takes what is and Transforms it into something better. Help us take what we do tonight and make it into something better.

Hail and Welcome

(Hail and Welcome)

Lover, King and Sage. He who brings to us what is needed and provides us with a place to thrive. Help us understand how we can best evolve from doing this working tonight.

Hail and Welcome

(Hail and Welcome)

To unite us all, we call upon the creator. They who provided us with a place to experience life. Please help us to understand our purpose here tonight.

Hail and Welcome

(Hail and Welcome)

Ancestors, Descendents and Sprits, Come to us through time and space. Surround us with your experience and wisdom. Inspire us with ways to overcome our obstacles during this working tonight.

Hail and Welcome

(Hail and Welcome)

Take a glass of water, or light a candle, or hold a rock or hold a balloon. The form doesn't matter. We are simply holding an object to hold a thought.

Think about the elements. Earth, Air, Fire and Water. Earth provides stability. Air inspires people to think. Fire empowers people to feel. Water encourages people to adapt.

Each person has a unique balance of these elements in their life. Over time the ratio ebbs and flows. For some people having an overabundance of one element is fine. For others, this could be a traumatic experience.

Someone may think that too much earth can be stagnating, while another person may feel taken comfort and feel secure.

Each person is woven together with their own unique elemental magics. Earth, air, fire and water. Some of us may have more of one element than the others, while some may have a bit of each.

There is no right or wrong combination of the elements. Each of us are simply the way we are, and have corresponding likes and dislikes, challenges and talents.

We can get blocked in life when we lose focus on who we are, and what we wish to accomplish. We can ask for help, inspiration and guidance while we look at our struggles so we can gain a different perspective on the current way things are balanced.

Tonight's working is about bringing balance into your life. We will look at the elements we feel like we have too much of. We will ask that the overabundant elements be allowed to drain away and seek a new equilibrium so we may find a new set point.

The intention is not to fix any particular problem or issue,. We seek to gain a different perspective on the overall situation so we may react differently.

When we choose to change our viewpoint, a new solution may emerge. What we are doing is a form of alchemy and of transformation. We are simply allowing our subconscious to find a better way to improve our lives. We are turning off the ego...the part of the brain that says "I Am." This will allow us, our higher selves, an opportunity to offer us a new script to follow.

Sit back, relax and let your mind wander for a moment. Inhale through your nose, exhale through your mouth. Breathe deep, and count back from 20 with each breath.

(Countdown from 20 begins).

Think about the element that corresponds with your birthday. If this doesn't suit your tastes, then pick whichever element you like.

Just imagine being near that element, as sunshine, as a breeze, as a light rain, or a cloud of gravel as you walk. The form does not matter. This element needs to be present.

"By the earth beneath me, I ask that you heal me as I move forward in this life. Find a new balance within me to help me achieve my highest good.

By the Water that flows within me, I ask that you rejuvenate me as I move forward in this life. Find a new balance within me to help me achieve my highest good.

By the Air that surrounds me, I ask that you nourish me as I move forward in this life. Find a new balance within me to help me achieve my highest good.

By the Fire beneath me, I ask that you Protect me as I move forward in this life. Find a new balance within me to help me achieve my highest good.

Guided by the Spirit that motivates me, through Earth, Air, Fire and Water, let these elements find a new balance within me. (3x)

Goddess and God, inspire us on our new path. Please help us let find tranquility, acceptance and purpose as we move forward into tomorrow and the days that come after.

Ancestors, Descendants and Guides, those who show us the way. Please inspire us to embody our noblest selves, so that we may meet what is to come with purpose and confidence.

The moon is Full, our spirits swollen with desires and intentions. Finding inner peace quiets the mind and allows us to manifest our will in a pure and complete manner. In this, our inner selves unite, working in tandem.

It has been written and spoken that what is, already was. So this working was meant to be, and that this was done for our highest good. We cast off what is no longer true and pure. We sought out a way to rebalance ourselves. We found equilibrium within the elements. For this we are grateful.

We remember that a balance lasts but a moment. Things change and the wheel turns. New things happen. Order flows into chaos. Through this we find joy. This allows us to evolve.

The only thing that remains to do, is to act. So take the blessings of all that is here: of the elements, the creators in their various forms, and those who guide us on our journey."

To move energy, to transmute what is into something else is an act of magic. All magic comes with a cost. It is either drawn from within, or from without.

To replenish what is taken is tradition. We eat, drink, feast and we make merry.

Symbolic of that, I offer up this drink to the God and Goddess. Let this quench your thirst.

(May you never thirst)

Symbolic of that, I offer up this grain to the God and Goddess. Let this quench your hunger.

(May you never Hunger)

The moon may be full and the sky is bright, but the night grows long and time passes. We being to tire. Let us prepare to depart this space between realms.

To the sprits of Earth,

Of Taurus, of Virgo and of Capricorn thank you for your presence tonight. Your gifts of loyalty and security, bringing order from chaos, discipline and determination were needed. Gaurdains of the Way, we release you with love and gratitude.

(Hail and Farwell)

To the sprits of Water,

Of Cancer, of Scorpio and of Pisces, thank you for your presence here tonight and for bringing to us the gifts of hearth and home, enchantment and intimacy, transformation and harmony. Gaurdains of the Self, we release you with love and gratitude.

(Hail and Farwell)

To the sprits of Fire,

Aries, Leo and Sagittarius, thank you for your presence here tonight, and for bringing your gifts of Leadership, of Confidence and Freedom. Guardians of Passion, we release you with love and gratitude.

(Hail and Farewell)

To the spirits of Air,

Gemini, Libra, and Aquarius, thank you for your presence here tonight and for bringing to your gifts of quick wit, of balance, and of knowledge. Guardians of the mind, we release you with love and gratitude.

(Hail and Farewell)

Goddess, in your many forms, thank you for your presence this night. Thank you for your many gifts this night. Take our love and gratitude as payment for your aid tonight. Return if you will, stay if you must.

(Hail and Farewell)

God, in your many forms, thank you for your presence this night. Thank you for your many gifts this night. Take our love and gratitude as payment for your aid tonight. Return if you will, stay if you must.

(Hail and Farewell)

Ancestors, Descendants and guides, thank you for your presence this night. Thank you for your many gifts this night. Take our love and gratitude as payment for your aid tonight. Return if you will, stay if you must.

(Hail and Farewell)

This night the moon is full, but we are weary. The spirits of Earth, Air, Fire and Water were with us tonight. We found balance, Strength and clarity to help us step into better versions of ourselves.

Because of this, tomrow and tomrrows tomrrow comes with greater ease and flow. Tonight, let us make the best of the hours we have left until the future meets us.

May you sleep, dream and heal well.

Witreeshins I move, where none was, an end and a beginning appear. This circle I spun becomes undone.

What was removed finds its place again. What is gone, returned. The space between places fades, but the effect of the working remains.

With Love, joy and Jelly Beans we depart until the next moon is full. Merry Meet, Merry Part, and Merry Meet Again!

*Written by Jason Hottel, AKA the Fluffy. Sunday, March 13, 2022.